The Rubric's Title

- A Key
- This is an entry with a key. The key is displayed on the left, and you're reading the entry's contents. As you can see, this entry does not belong to a subrubric.

A First Subrubric and the sequel

- A Key
- This entry belongs to the first subrubric. Before the subrubric, some space is added to separate it from the previous entry.
 - After the subrubric, some space is also added to separate it from the first entry. Note that this entry has no key. The entries contents are aligned together.
- Another Key
- This is another entry with a new key.
 - This is another entry, but this one has no key. Note the text bullet which serves as a visual clue, especially when several entries share the same key.

A Second Subrubric

- A Key
